Armando Leighton founded CRS Jet Spares, Inc., a premier global aftermarket business jet supplier headquartered in Fort Lauderdale. The company has offices and strategic distribution centers in London, Singapore and Brazil. In 1982 with $2000 in savings, he established Corporate Rotable & Supply, Inc., out of his family garage. Today, the company is one of the world's largest privately-owned spare parts inventory. On April 24, 2013, Leighton was inducted into the Entrepreneur Hall of Fame at the Nova Southeastern University H. Wayne Huizenga School of Business and Entrepreneurship.

Bill Mahoney is founder and President of Mahoney & Associates. He began his insurance career in 1963 as an agent for New York Life Insurance Company. He soon discovered a passion for corporate benefit programs and for 48 years focused on building a respected compensation and benefits management practice. Mahoney & Associates operates from offices in Springfield, MA, Fort Lauderdale, FL, and New York City. On April 13, 2011, Mahoney was inducted into the Entrepreneur Hall of Fame at the Nova Southeastern University H. Wayne Huizenga School of Business and Entrepreneurship.

Thomas Shea opened Florida's first outplacement firm from his home in 1979. Within two years, Right Management, a nationwide career management company, approached Shea about a partnership. Right Management's Florida/Caribbean Division is part of a national network of resources that offers expertise in talent assessment, leader development, organizational effectiveness, employee engagement, workforce transition, and outplacement. On April 24, 2013, Shea was inducted into the Entrepreneur Hall of Fame at the Nova Southeastern University H. Wayne Huizenga School of Business and Entrepreneurship.
