

Health Professions Educational Research Symposium 2015
Leadership in Higher Education: Training our Students, Training Ourselves
Saturday January 24, 2015

Time/Room	Session
8:30-9:00 Atrium	On-site Registration & Continental Breakfast
9:00-9:50 Terry	Keynote Presentation Lessons in Leadership: Navigating Change in Turbulent Times Lynn M. Gangone, EdD
10:00-10:30 Terry Resnick	Concurrent Platform Session I Hagen, K. Identifying opinion leaders for diffusion of innovations. Reinoso, G. Teaching graduate students a relationship-oriented model of leadership while reaching for national and international learning experiences.
10:35-11:05 Terry Resnick	Concurrent Platform Session II Ortelli, T. Evaluating the knowledge of those who teach: An analysis of candidate's performance on the certified nurse educator examination. Dowd, A. An exploratory case study to examine the integration of technology to engage nursing students in the classroom.
11:10-11:40 Terry Resnick	Concurrent Platform Session III Shaw, K. Leadership without mentorship-Is it possible? Rafalko, J., Johnson M. Human patient simulation: Student leadership achieved through mentoring and modeling in health care education by teamwork.
11:45-12:15 Terry Resnick	Concurrent Platform Session IV Winston, K., Dunbar S. Leadership reflections: A content analysis. Hettrick, H. Game-based learning: Novel teaching tools for student engagement and knowledge transfer.
12:15-1:00	Buffet Lunch
1:00-2:00 Terry Resnick	Concurrent Workshops Purvis, C., et al. Developing leadership by recognizing strengths in ourselves and others. Hamstra, J. Walk the walk: Getting to the heart of leadership.
2:05-2:35 Terry Resnick	Concurrent Platform Session V Keegan, M. J. The effects of high fidelity simulation on the self-confidence and clinical competence of pre-licensure nursing students in the final semesters of an associate degree-nursing program. Trif, A. B. Building rapport with your students during medical outreach missions.
2:40-3:10 Terry	Platform Session VI Luyegu, E. Instructional technology: Are you an E-Leader?"
3:15-3:45 Terry	Platform Session VII Stern, D., et al. ICE (Integrated clinical education) is hot: Empowering students to succeed and lead in the clinical setting through early introduction.
3:50-4:30 Terry	Closing Presentation The Responsibility of Academic Leadership: Creating a Leadership Narrative Sandee Dunbar, DPA, OTR/L, FAOTA
4:30-5:00 Atrium	Poster Stroll with Wine and Cheese Reception Posters: J. Bucker, R. Jacobs, R. Jacobs et al., I. Pichardo-Murray, L. Nof et al.

Register TODAY: www.nova.edu/hpers